Nine Lose Lives In Motor Mishaps Here In Two Months

Since June 28, less than two months ago, nine lives have been snuffed out in automobile accidents in Gettysburg and Adams county, and since the first of the year, eleven persons have lost their lives in motor car mishaps, according to the records of Dr. E. A. Miller, county coroner.

This summer's appalling toll of motor car crash victims—approximately one every six days—far exceeds that of any previous years, according to the records, and is only slightly less than the total of other violent deaths in Adams county.

Since January 1, 1928, eleven persons have lost their lives in automobile accidents in Adams county, either as occupants of machines which were wrecked or by being struck by automobiles.

From the first of the year, five persons in Adams county have lost their lives as a result of burns; three persons have drowned in Adams county waters; one murder was committed and a second charged with murder.

Two persons committed suicide. One person lost his life through the premature explosion of dynamite.

Besides holding inquests in all of the automobile crash cases and in many of the deaths by other violent means, Doctor Miller has been called upon to issue certificates in a number of deaths by heart disease and apoplexy.

In York county, thirty-eight deaths resulted from automobile accidents in the 34 weeks from January 1, averaging about the same as the number in this county in the last two months. In the same period, twenty-three persons committed suicide in York county.

Wandering Boy Reaches Mother

Miss McMillan, county welfare worker and secretary of the Red Cross chapter, today received the following letter from James, whom she picked up near here, kept a week while locating relatives, and finally sent on his way to join his mother:

"The Travelers' Aid has been very kind to me and has done everything possible to effect my being with my dear mother. 'I arrived in the station a few minutes ago. Everything is splendid and I am very happy. 'Thanking you again for helping me, I am lovingly, 'James Davis.'"

When she saw the child, he was lying unconscious, the kerosene can beside him, the spout in his mouth. The liquid was running from his mouth.

The parents took their child to the hospital where little hope is held for its recovery.

County Man Found Dead On Door Step

Kansas Utah Harner, former Littlestown real estate agent, was found dead about 2:10 o'clock Wednesday morning by Sergeant of Police John F. Butteroff as he was lying on a concrete step in front of the home of John Kling, York. The man was 69 years of age.

The police officer found the man after he had been informed by some one that a stranger was lying on the step. When Sergeant Butteroff arrived at the place he tried to arouse the man and, when he received no response, he touched his forehead and noticed that the man's body was cold. His identity was established through a package of letters which were strewn on the porch. Mr. Harner probably was carrying these letters when death came.

Dr. L. U. Zech, the coroner, pronounced death due to heart disease. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Interment took place in Prospect Hill cemetery.

HOOVER NEARING END LONG JAUNT

Curtis Will Address Grangers Near Harrisburg; Smith Assured of Southern Vote.

Hoover Train, enroute to Washington, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Crossing Ohio and Pennsylvania today, Herbert Hoover is completing his first campaign trip, one that has taken him into 19 states from coast-to-coast and border to border.

Since leaving Washington on July 14, the Republican presidential candidate has covered more than 8,000 miles, has been greeted by nearly a million persons, delivered five prepared addresses, including that accepting the nomination, and made more than two dozen rear platform talks.

He returns to Washington early tonight to take personal charge of his campaign forces rallied by conditions as he has found them and heartened for the strenuous contest that is ahead in a campaign just now getting under way.

Curtis Coming To Penna. Harrisburg, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice presidential nominee, will make his first appearance in Pennsylvania in behalf of the Hoover-Curtis ticket next Thursday, August 30, when he will speak at the Grangers' picnic at Williams Grove, Cumberland county.

According to an announcement today by A. Boyd Hamilton, assistant Republican state chairman, all arrangements have been completed for having Senator Curtis address the farmers on that date, which has been designated as "Hoover Day" at the picnic.

Smith In New York

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—For a while today Governor Smith sat behind a big desk reserved for him at Democratic national headquarters and personally directed his campaign for the presidency.

In New York for an overnight stay before proceeding to Sea Girt, New Jersey, for a big Democratic rally tomorrow, the nominee was besieged at headquarters by hundreds of party workers and well wishers.

Governor Smith told newspaper men that he had conferred for half an hour last night with Hoke Smith, former Democratic senator from Georgia, who, he said, assured him that "everything is all right" in the South. The Georgian Democrat was the only political leader the governor saw last night after his arrival from Albany.

The train will make a brief stop. Congressman Franklin Menges, of the York-Adams district, has wired Mr. Hoover and asked that the train stop at York. This will give Yorkers another opportunity to see this presidential candidate.

At York this evening at 6:15 o'clock Mr. Hoover will be greeted by Congressman Menges and other York men and women, who will be at the Pennsylvania station.

SKELETON OF MISSING MAN FOUND IN MTS.

David Spoonhour, 73, Missing Since June 1, Is Found By Philadelphia Camper.

The skeleton of David Spoonhour, 73, who disappeared June 1 from the home of his son, Lee Spoonhour, at Mt. Union, near Caledonia, was found late Thursday afternoon on top of Yellow Ridge, six miles from Caledonia.

The remains, with most of the flesh eaten away by carrion birds and vermin, but with the clothing fairly well intact, were found by a Philadelphia camper, who was tramping over the slopes of the South Mountain.

Identification was established through the clothing and small articles in the pockets. Members of the missing man's family viewed the body and the clothing and said they were positive it was that of Mr. Spoonhour.

Coroner Shull, of Franklin county, who viewed the body, said the aged man probably had wandered away from his home, going into the mountains and had become lost. He expressed the belief that the man had lain down to rest when he became exhausted, and died.

Searched In Vain

Sergeant Joseph Merrifield, of the local sub-station of state police, was notified of the aged man's disappearance after he left the Lee Spoonhour home, and he and members of the family and students at the Mont Alto state forestry school had conducted an extensive but futile search for the man at the time.

At the time of the aged man's disappearance, Sergeant Merrifield said members of the family had told him that Spoonhour was mentally unbalanced. It is believed he became bewildered as he wandered through the mountains, and was unable to find his way out.

Spoonhour is the father-in-law of John Appelt, who formerly worked at Mitchell's restaurant, Center Square.

Plymouth, Eng., Aug. 24.—Secretary of State Kellogg and Premier Mackenzie King, of Canada, received a civic welcome here when the liner Ile de France arrived enroute to Cherbourg. "The treaty is not the work of one nation," the American secretary said, "but the work of many nations and many men. It springs from the people of the world of today who are longing for any step which will prevent another world calamity."

Watches Surgeon Cut Off His Hand

Newark, N. J., Aug. 24.—(AE)—George Blake, 18, without an anesthetic had his left hand cut away by a City hospital ambulance surgeon Thursday after it became caught in powerful steam hammer.

The hammer, weighing nearly a ton, caught Blake's hand while he was working at a forgings plant. Firemen were called but were unable to lift the press without dragging the victim with it. Dr. Harold K. Dwork, City hospital interne, cut away two of Blake's fingers, the thumb and a large part of the body of the hand while Blake watched him. Blake is in a serious condition.

"Talkies" Adopted For Plane Service

New York, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The "talkies" are to be taken for a skyride. The Atlantic Coast Airways corporation announced that by arrangement with First National Pictures movies will be a regular part of the service in its new twenty-five passenger seaplane which makes its first runs between New York and Atlantic City on Sunday.

To inaugurate the service an attempt will be made to entertain the passenger with a sound picture, and it was indicated that if the test is successful the talkies may be made a regular adjunct of air travel between the two cities instead of "plain movies."

Hoover Stays Ahead of Smith In Times Poll

Republican Nominee Picks Up 28 Votes While Smith Receives Three Second Day.

Herbert Hoover leads his Democratic opponent, Alfred E. Smith, by 35 votes in The Gettysburg Times straw vote at the close of the second day's balloting. Smith received but three votes when the second day's voting closed at 2 o'clock this afternoon while Hoover had received 28. Most of these votes were from the rural districts.

The Republican nominee's votes were cast in batches of two and three, indicating the general trend of family opinion in voting. Smith's three votes trickled in by mail. The totals are:

HOOVER 79
SMITH 44

Hoover Leads Nation

The third week's returns in the national presidential poll bring Hoover's total to 191,693, and Smith's total to 151,708. Last week's returns were 74,787 for Hoover and 51,022 for Smith. Voting is at its height at the present time and it is expected that each week's returns will bring a great increase in the totals of both presidential candidates.

This nationwide presidential poll is being conducted by 2,000 daily and weekly newspapers the country over.

Party Lines Slackened

Among other things, the poll has uncovered the fact that party lines are being slackened a great deal this year. Former Democrats are voting for Hoover and former Republicans are voting for Smith. Especially marked is the tendency in the south.

55,096 who voted the Democratic ticket last campaign are now to vote for Hoover. Of these 55,096 voters, 35,495 are residents of the southern states.

12,998 who voted the Republican ticket last campaign are now to vote for Smith. Of these 12,998 voters, 5,131 are in the south. If you haven't cast your ballot in The Times straw vote, check your preference on the ballot on page two of this issue and mail or bring it to the Election Editor of The Times.

UNIQUE WILL, LETTER, LEFT BY MISS CODORI

Remembers "Billy" Brinkerhoff Who Saved Her Life When Attacked By Snake.

An undated letter, written in long hand and signed by her familiar nickname, "Kisses," was entered to probate as the will of the late Miss Caroline C. Codori, who at the time of her death was chief operator at the Bell telephone exchange here. The letter was filed in the office of C. G. Taughinbaugh, register and recorder, Thursday afternoon. Miss Codori died August 4, following a serious operation.

According to an affidavit, signed and sworn to by Miss Marie M. Codori, sister of Miss Caroline Codori, and Miss Mary Ramer, one of the deceased woman's best friends, the letter was written before Miss Codori entered the hospital on July 31, was inserted in a large manila envelope and was placed in a bureau drawer at the Codori home.

Anticipated The End

The envelope in which the letter was placed, entered to probate along with the writing, was addressed to "Marie Codori," and in the lower left hand corner the notation, "Open after it is over," anticipating apparently that the operation and its consequences would prove fatal.

In the letter-will, Miss Codori, whose estate is inventoried at $893.60, directs that one share of American Telephone and Telegraph stock be given "Billy" Brinkerhoff, who resides on Baltimore street, "for his promptness and unselfishness in saving my life when the snake got me. It is only a slight token of my gratitude." The balance is divided among members of her estate.

Miss Codori, it is recalled, was bitten by a snake four years ago, while tramping, with a party of friends, through the South Mountains. Mr. Brinkerhoff hurried to her assistance after she was bitten, killed the snake and rushed her to a physician.

Remembers Close Friend

The unique document directs that Miss Mary Ramer take any of her personal effects "as a minute token of the most beautiful friendship God has blessed my life with," and, continuing, the letter reads: "May He grant that it last until the threshold of the grave, and 'I'll continue to the foot of His throne.'"

The will of Amy C. Reigle, late of Littlestown, disposing of an estate valued at $3,800, was entered to probate today.

Mrs. Mary A. Kumerant, late of Gettysburg, left personal property valued at $13,620, and real estate valued at $1,550, according to the probate of her will, entered Thursday afternoon.

IRISHMEN CHEER

RETIRED CHAMP

Dublin, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Gene Tunney came to the land of his ancestors Thursday and thousands of admirers greeted him with wild Irish cheers. So great was the crowd at Kingstown, where he landed, that members of the reception committee had difficulty in getting him to the car which was to carry him to Dublin.

Questioned regarding the report that he intended to be married in Paris, Tunney told the Associated Press:

IRISHMEN CHEER RETIRED CHAMP

Dublin, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Gene Tunney came to the land of his ancestors Thursday and thousands of admirers greeted him with wild Irish cheers. So great was the crowd at Kingstown, where he landed, that members of the reception committee had difficulty in getting him to the car which was to carry him to Dublin.

All along the route to the Free State capital, countrymen were lined to greet him. At Dublin Tunney went to government house, where he was received by President Cosgrave. Later he held a reception at his hotel and signed autographs for all who asked them.

Questioned regarding the report that he intended to be married in Paris, Tunney told the Associated Press:

"The statement attributed to me announcing my marriage in Paris is inaccurate and groundless, as I have made no mention of the subject to any one at any time."

Out of the Past

Happenings of Days Gone by as Chronicled in The Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times, the Files Reveal.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Here and There.—Miss Kate Brichl visited eighteen different families in July, making in all two hundred and seventy-four visits in two months.

The seminary cupola which was destroyed by fire recently will be restored along its original lines according to action taken by the seminary authorities. In expression of the appreciation of the good work of the fire company in confining the blaze to the cupola, and perhaps thereby saving the entire building, the faculty authorized the treasurer to pay them $25.

Nearly seventy-five members and friends of the local Eagles lodge attended their annual corn bake held on the farm of John Kime near Table Rock, last Thursday night.

Sunday School Picnic.—It was decided at a recent meeting of the Union Sunday school committee to hold the annual picnic this year on Thursday, August 28th, at Round Top. Four committees were appointed, one on entertainment, one on transportation, another on refreshments and the fourth to request all business men to close their places of business that the employees may attend. The Citizens' band will be asked to render music as last year and other plans will be much the same as last year's gathering.

As in previous years it is expected that many will take their lunches along but the committee has arranged with the management of Rosensteel's pavilion to have refreshments on sale to those who care to purchase them.

Practically all of the business men of town have consented to close their stores at noon.

Elks Corn Bake.—The annual
corn bake, held by the local Elks lodge, Wednesday evening at the farm of Andy J. Smith along the Bonneauville road, was one of the most successful that has ever been held.

More than one hundred and twenty-five elks and their friends took part in the feasting. Besides baked corn the menu contained chicken, baked potatoes, salad, cheese and three or four kinds of desserts, including French punch.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of the following members: Oliver J. Boston, John W. Brehm and Paul Martin.

Wedding Bells.—Givler-Schwartz.—Announcement has

Lonely I sit like a little trapped mouse;

The only way into my prison log house

Is down through the chimney. Make haste, I implore.

For locked are the windows and bolted the door!"

sang a sweet voice as Little Jack Rabbit tried to enter the little log house, as I mentioned in the story before this.

"Keep up a brave heart," he shouted hopping up a ladder to the roof. "Gracious me! I feel like a Bunny Santa Claus," he laughed as he carefully let himself down the inside of the red brick chimney.

But, dearie! Wasn't it sooty in-guess it was, and when the little rabbit at last found himself on the hearth he was as black as a crow."Oh, Bunny Boy, you've come in sighed the sweet voice. The next minute the nimble little rabbit with his jack knife had cut the cords that bound a lovely princess, with long golden hair and blue eyes.

But what surprised him more, after opening the door and the windows to let in the light, was what he saw in the mirror.

"Gracious me, I'm black as a coal.

What shall I do to get white?
I'll have to sleep all day in bed
And only go out at night," he sighed.

"Nothing of the sort," laughed the little princess, and dipping her pretty lace handkerchief in a pail of water, she soon washed off the soot. "Now let us hasten away," she cried. And out of the log cabin and down the forest path they hurried until, after a while and a sweet smelling mile, they came to the edge of the wood where flowed a deep river down to the big blue ocean.

"We must find a boat," said the

princess. "For near the sea stands

my father's castle."

After a long search along the bank the little bunny discovered a boat. Wasn't he lucky? "Hurrah!"

he shouted, and jumping in after

the little princess, he shoved off.

Away sped the little boat down

the river. The merry breezes ruffled the golden hair of the little princess until she was forced to tie it back with a piece of rope, for,
sad to say, the silk ribbon had somehow fallen into the water. But she didn't care, but laughed and sang. Yes, indeed, she was happy to be once more free, although uncertain whether the little boat would find the castle by the sea where lived her royal father, the king.

Well, anyway, on and on sped

the little boat, swiftly down the great river, and by and by the sun went down and the stars came out, and the little rabbit became so tired that the princess took turns at steering the boat. Pretty soon she, too, grew tired weary, and then they both fell asleep. Yes, they did, and in the next story you shall hear what happened in the morning.

care to purchase them.

Practically all of the business men of town have consented to
close their stores at noon.

Elks Corn Bake.—The annual
corn bake, held by the local Elks
lodge Wednesday evening at the farm of Andy J. Smith along the Bonneauville road, was one of the most successful that has ever been held.

More than one hundred and
twenty-five elks and their friends
took part in the feasting. Besides
baked corn the menu contained
chicken, baked potatoes, salad,
cheese and three or four kinds of

The committee in charge of the
arrangements was composed of the long golden hair and blue eyes.

ried until, after a while and a sweet
smelling mile, they came to the edge of the wood where flowed a deep river down to the big blue ocean.

"We must find a boat," said the
princess. "For near the sea stands
my father's castle."

After a long search along the
bank the little bunny discovered a
boat. Wasn't he lucky? "Hurrah!"
he shouted, and jumping in after
the little princess, he shoved off.

Away sped the little boat down
the river. The merry breezes ruffled the golden hair of the little
princess until she was forced to tie
it back with a piece of rope, for,
sad to say, the silk ribbon had somehow fallen into the water. But
she didn't care, but laughed and
sang. Yes, indeed, she was happy to be once more free, although uncertain whether the little boat
would find the castle by the sea where lived her royal father, the king.

Well, anyway, on and on sped
the little boat, swiftly down the
great river, and by and by the
sun went down and the stars came
out, and the little rabbit became
so tired that the princess took
turns at steering the boat. Pretty soon she, too, grew tired weary, and then they both fell asleep. Yes,
they did, and in the next story you

TESTIMONIAL

Baltimore Lady had Neuritis and Arthritis so bad.

This is what she says:

A few words of praise for your prescription Q-623. I have had a bad attack of Neuritis and Arthritis. I had tried a number of remedies and have been under the doctor's care and seemed to get worse all the time. A friend told me about your prescription and three bottles of Q-623 has eliminated the pain and I can now use my hands and arms as the swelling has disappeared. I can heartily recommend Q-623 to anyone with arthritis and neuritis.

TESTIMONIAL

Baltimore Lady had Neuritis and Arthritis so bad.

This is what she says:
A few words of praise for your prescription Q-623. I have had a bad attack of Neuritis and Arthritis. I had tried a number of remedies and have been under the doctor's care and seemed to get worse all the time. A friend told me about your prescription and three bottles of Q-623 has eliminated the pain and I can now use my hands and arms as the swelling has disappeared. I can heartily recommend Q-623 to anyone with arthritis and neuritis.

About Our Store

Here's a very nice compliment for the women of Gettysburg.

Just recently a travelling salesman who was visiting us on his regular trip remarked that Gettysburg women have a reputation throughout his profession for being well-dressed. "You can notice it when you walk down the street," he said.

That's another slant on Gettysburg. But you've noticed it yourself; travellers and visitors get one impression of a town from the clothes the people wear. Gettysburg women are recognized as well-dressed.

The G. W. Weaver & Son Store is proud of the part it is taking in maintaining that reputation. For 43 years now we have been trying to give you the sort of apparel you enjoy wearing, at the prices you would expect to pay.

The coming of fall means another opportunity to offer you the newest in feminine fashions. Make us your style headquarters.
